billed for travel expenses.

Its resolution said his course of conduct over a period of five years "Is contrary to accepted morals, derogates from the public trust expected of a senator, and tends to bring the Senate into dishonor and disrepute."

Dodd, a senator since 1959, said he thought the committee members had tried to be fair to him but had made "a tragic mistake" in accusing him of financial miscondu ct.

He said that in defending himself before his colleagues he will make "as detailed and honest a presentation as I can.

But first the committee's position was to be set forth by Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., and Vice Chairman Wailace F. Bennett, R-Utah.

All committee hearings were barred during the debate, al-though they could be held before or after each day's session. The intent of the leaders, however, was to avoid any distraction from the censure issue.

The leadership did set aside two hours on Wednesday in which to debate and act on the 58 48 .15 military draft extension bill.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., the assistant Democratic lead-10 er, planned to offer a substitute resolution urging the ethics committee to draft a code of conduct for senators and drop any reference to censure of Dodd.

After the committee submitted its report April 27, Long said 77 63 .51 it had made a scapegoat of Dodd. He also said then that half the committee and even half the Senate couldn't stand a similar investigation.

Long later offered a public apology for his remarks but has continued to defend Dodd and enlisted the assistance of New Orleans lawyer Eberhard P. Deutsch.

The Senate granted Long permission Monday to have Deutsch with him on the floor during the debate. Dodd similarly was given permission to have his chief counsel, John F. Sonnett, and other laywers with him.

Fired Mele Looks Forward

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) - Sam Mele, the 1965 major league manager of the year fired last week as field boss of the Minnesota Twins, is looking forward to the first summer vacation with his family in 18 years. "It will seem strange, but it is only a vacation," Mele said after returning Monday to his Quincy home. "I expect to be back in baseball next year."

Mele, a former player and coach before he was named manager of the Twins in 1961, admitted he was stunned by his dismissal last Friday.

"It came as a shock and it was disappointing, but managers are hired to be fired, I guess," he said.

"Owner Calvin Griffith and I just didn't see eye to eye on a lot of matters and he decided to make a change," Mele added. "That is his right, but I would like to have finished this season since I think we could have had a good year."

Mele blamed much of the Twins' early problems on injuries to Tony Oliva and Earl Battey and the ineffectiveness of southpaw ace Jim Kaat.

"I felt our team was just starting to jell," he said. "In the Innings past three weeks, we had picked up considerably. After all, Tony Oliva was out and you can't lose a ballplayer like him and not By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scientific bidders hate to go beyond game unless they are practically sure that the slam will be bid. No one likes down because of unfortunate When the loss is at a contract in the never-never land of between game and slam there is no consolation. You have simply thrown away a there is a loss the scientist sits in his ivory tower and says. "See what my partner did." If the partner stops at game and the slam is on the scientist says, "I tried to get to a slam. My partner dropped the ball."

North was one of these scientists. Some players would have blasted all the way to a slam with the North cards. Most others would have bid five spades when this North bid four.

This North was content to show that he was very much interested in a slam by detouring to three diamonds before going to four spades.

We aren't going to quarrel with success South had played with North before and decided that his minimum hand had increased in value. South did bid five hearts to show first round heart control.

This was enough for North His partner had gone past game. North jumped to the slam. There wasn't much to the play. South drew trumps, jost the club finesse and claimed his contract.

MIDEAST OIL CONTRIBUTION UNITED STATES - 3.4% WESTERN EUROPE - 65% WESTERN PACIFIC - 65%

Anti-Western feelings in the Arab world due to the Mideast fighting may dry up the flow of oil from that area, but Western officials foresee no real crisis. Arab oil fields supply about one-third of the Free World's oil, but Britain and Western Europe have large reserves that will hold them for some time. Other possible remedies would be to increase shipments from the United States and Latin America. The U.S., as shown above, gets only a small percentage of total petroleum from the Mideast.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Unlike many other large cities, London does not want to grow in either population or area, says The World Almanac. The London government has made a conscious effort to restrict new industries from moving to the city and has actually succeeded in relocating over 200 firms outside Greater London.

Q-Could allergy cause dizziness and nervous tension? Could nylon or foam rubber be the cause?

A-These symptoms and almost any others you could mention might be due to some form of allergy. There is a wide variety of known allergens and the list gets longsubstances and, as a control for comparison, some substance like wool or cotton to which you are not allergic.

Q-What is the best treatment for asthma?

A-One of the antihistamines will relieve the asthmatic attack but identifying the allergen that causes it and avoiding it is the best treatment in the long run. In some victims this requires an exhaustive search.

Q-I have had asthma all my life. My three sons have it but my daughter doesn't. Is it hereditary? My doctor is giving me Amesec for my asthma. Are there any side effects?

A—Heredity undoubtedly plays an important part in the allergy of many asthmatics. Aminophylline compound (Amesec) should not cause any undesirable side effects if the dose is properly regulated. Too large a dose may cause irritability, nervous tension, nausea and skipped heart beats. The chief reason
